

The broadcaster's should go ahead and quit all HDTV broadcasts. If they choose to force copy protection, I won't support them by buying a receiver that implements it. I will record shows on air and watch them when I want. They seem to have forgotten that the consumer drives this market--not the supplier.